Integrated Testing Platform. ON24 Webcasting Continuing Education Solutions cater to each program's unique needs, making the creation and administration of educational programs a straight-forward process. You may include interactive, self-paced tests before, during or after an event. Additionally, short tests or polls at regular intervals can be utilized to enforce attendance requirements.

Certification. ON24 Webcasting Continuing Education Solutions are particularly well suited for required certification programs. Certificate generation at the conclusion of a virtual education event can be customized as needed. Now you can track and enforce live attendance, on-demand viewing of course material and completion of post-event surveys and tests.

24/7 Easy Accessibility. The ON24 Webcasting virtual events platform delivers fully streamed events. Attendees are not required to dial into conferences and will not be inconvenienced by pop-ups and software downloads. Simply click on a link, turn up the volume and attend a virtual event. Programs may be broken into chapters and modules to allow attendees to view content in the order that best meets their unique needs. On-demand online courses make it truly easy to learn at your own pace.

Program Results and Reporting. ON24 Webcasting Continuing Education Solutions include a powerful reporting engine which provides details of event performance and course participation and test results. Program reports are real time and entirely web-based.

Support and Service. PGI's Professional Services team can assist with every aspect of event production, from media capture to event setup and live monitoring. PGI has experienced creative and production teams to provide exceptional service and to customize and promote your events.
