Security is priority one

With CeEasyMeeting and all of CeConference's services the confidentiality of your business is of the utmost importance. CeConference is committed to protecting the privacy of every client we serve. Dedicated security protocols throughout our system ensure sensitive client information remains private. Our automated CeEasyMeeting service uses our own innovative bridging equipment, which translates into a more secure, feature-rich service. Because security is a top priority, all Web-based reservations for Web conferencing are scheduled on a secure server using encryption technology.

• Additional CeEasyMeeting security protocols include:

- A separate moderator passcode to ensure only the moderator can initiate the call.
- Conference lock to prevent anyone from joining after the meeting begins.

- Moderator controlled roll call to let the moderator know at any time who is in the conference.
- Tones on entry/exit to notify others on the call when a participant joins or leaves.
- On-hold music for participants until the moderator is ready to begin the call.

Making company-wide rollout and management easy

CeConference provides communication tools for getting the word out about CeEasyMeeting within your company. Once employees are enrolled, each moderator in your company will receive a packet including a customised CeEasyMeeting card with unique dedicated numbers, secure passcodes and a quick-start guide explaining features and benefits. A CeEasyMeeting representative will be available to meet with key users in your company to review CeEasyMeeting's more robust features and to answer any questions about the service. We take the time to educate employees, not just at enrolment, but also as new features become available. We'll also assist you in coming up with plans to ensure employees are using CeEasyMeeting as your company expects-especially from a bottomline perspective. Calls are billed to a company account, and moderators have the ability to assign a billing code or PO number to each call for easier tracking and billing simplification. Every step of the way, CeConference solutions can help you successfully implement your full range of communications services.
